ST. ANN'S OPPOSES TRENTON ELEVEN IN STIFF CONTEST

Although Outweighed, Local Team Gave Good Account of Themselves

SCORE ENDED 13 TO 0

Bristol Eleven Scored Ten First Downs Against Opponents

By T. M. Jono

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 10.—Although outweighed by at least twenty pounds to a man, the Bristol-St. Ann's gave the Trenton A. A. its hardest and stubbornest opposition of the season on the high school field yesterday but when the battle was over the Jersey team still had its clean record unmarred. The final score was: Trenton A. A., 13; St. Ann's 0.

The Bristol eleven scored ten first downs against the home club. This is almost twice as many as were scored against the Plumermen all season. The "Saints" almost scored in the very first period when they reached the six-yard line but the Jerseyites held and a pass on the fourth down was grounded and Trenton given the ball on its own twenty-yard line.

The battle was evenly matched in every period except in the third when Coffee and Johnson alternated in carrying the ball and by fine footwork plus speed and headwork carried the ball to the ten-yard line of Bristol. Here the Dorrance street boys held for downs and received the ball. On the first play, a forward pass was tried which was intercepted by Johnson. Johnson returned the pass to the "Saints" five-yard line as the first period ended. At the beginning of the next period the "Saints" held for three downs but then Johnson again took the ball and dove an opening at tackle for a touchdown. The try for the extra point failed.

The other touchdown was scored in almost the same manner. Johnson again intercepted a pass in the final session and sprinted 28 yards before being spilled. He took the pigskin on the next play around right end and gained eighteen more yards. Johnson then carried the ball over. Johnson drop-kicked the extra point.

Most of the playing of the game was done in the territory of Trenton. The only comeback the Trenton eleven had was Johnson. The man was the entire thorn against the Bristol team and when he got loose it was just too bad. Occasionally this Johnson failed to gain and at one time on three plays the Jersey team was thrown for loss of thirty-nine yard. However, there was a penalty mixed in between plays.

Coffee, who was designated as one of the Trenton stars, failed to gain much yardage against the Bristol team and after being hit hard several times in the first half was out of the game because of an injury.

St. Ann's put the ball in scoring position in the first five minutes of play. The opening kick-off was garnered by a Bristol player. On the first play Moffo socked the left side of the line for five yards. Donhuri followed with a first down on the same play. Trenton then was penalized five yards for off-sides. Greco then smacked the heavy Jersey line for another first down. The "Saints" then put their "fuzzy" formation to work and it netted twenty yards with Moffo carrying the ball. Moffo was downed on Trenton's six-yard mark but here the Trentonians held and the Bristol boys lost the ball.

The "Saints" reached the twenty-yard line of Trenton three times during the forty-eight minutes of play but never could push the ball over.

Both teams had the same colored jerseys which hindered them in trying forwards. The "Saints" tried four forwards and two were intercepted which led to the scoring of Trenton's touchdowns.

Both teams played bang-up football and there is a possibility that the teams will be rematched later in the season. During the entire game the (Continued on Page 4)

Hulmeville Lads Find Fox Caught in Their Trap

HULMEVILLE, Nov. 10. — Two Hulmeville boys, Leslie Prickett and William Claus, were surprised Saturday morning to find a full-grown fox in one of their traps which occupy much of their spare time.

The animal, which the two lads claim is a cross between a red and gray fox, was skinned, and the two are looking forward to receiving a bounty and selling the splendid pelt.

The fox was trapped in what is known as Taylor's Woods, several hundred feet from the Neshaminy.

Bristol Travel Club Has Very Interesting Session

An interesting meeting of the Travel Club was held on Friday afternoon, the club meeting at its home on Cedar street at three o'clock.

Mrs. Emil Metzger and Mrs. Franklin Wills were hostesses for the day and they had the room artistically decorated with asters, bitter sweet and autumn leaves.

The program which was to have been given was postponed until January, so Mrs. Metzger conducted an impromptu meeting.

Mrs. Charles Bowen and Mrs. Marburg D. Weagley led the club in singing the club song.

Mrs. John Moyer reviewed a discussion which she had recently heard at a club institute in Germantown. The topic was "The Characteristics of a Growing Club."

Mrs. Serrill Douglass conducted a quiz of ten questions on "What every member should know about club federation."

Mrs. Charles Merston gave an account of the county federation meeting held at Newtown on October 31st. She reviewed particularly Colonel Wetherill's address on "Regional Planning."

Miss Frances Landreth, who attended the southeastern district meeting at Doylestown on November 7th, gave a report. She reviewed Miss Agnes MacPhail's address, "The Spirit of Geneva."

Miss MacPhail has been a member of the Canadian Parliament for thirteen years and was the first woman to sit on the Disarmament Conference in Geneva.

Mrs. Linton Martin read an article on "Relations between Canada and the United States."

After the club sang the "Pennsylvania State Song," Miss Mary Haines and Mrs. George Ardrey gave brief reports of the afternoon session of the Doylestown meeting.

The meeting ended with the singing of "America, the Beautiful."

At the next meeting of the club on November 21st, a food exchange will be conducted preceding the meeting.

STATE AND DISTRICT OFFICERS AT BANQUET

Honored Guests at Armistice Dinner Given by Soby Post Auxiliary

GIVE INSPIRING TALKS

LANGHORNE, Nov. 10.—State and district officers of the American Legion and auxiliary were honored guests and speakers at the fourth annual Armistice dinner given in the Memorial House, here, Saturday evening, by the American Legion Auxiliary of Jesse W. Soby Post, 148, and participated in as well by the post members.

Leon Walt, commander of the ninth district of the Legion, gave his brief and inspiring talk about co-operation. He asked the post men to co-operate with the district, and each to do all possible toward helping the disabled, and others in need of assistance. "The Legionnaire is a man who served his country and who is still serving; and an ex-service man who is not connected with this splendid organization is one who did serve his country and who has stopped serving," stated the speaker.

Miss Mary Keating, auxiliary president, extended the welcome; and the toastmaster of the evening was Thomas B. Longhurst, a member of the Soby post. Mr. Longhurst also presented to the group of 70 assembled, Howard Ott, commander of the local post, who outlined some plans, and asked for suggestions and help in any way throughout his period in office.

Others who brought greetings to the diners were Mrs. Rae Brodbeck, of Willow Grove, who for years has been an active member of the auxiliary, and has done commendable work in the bi-county council, as well as served as a State officer in the 8th and 40 Societies; and Mrs. Betty Wipf, president of the Montgomery-Bucks Bi-County Council; and Rev. Isaac E. Brooks, post chaplain.

The Legionnaires and auxiliary members were especially glad to welcome to their midst on this festive occasion A. L. Colby, a Civil War veteran who for years was very active in the Hugh Martindale Post of the G. A. R. Mr. Colby expressed pleasure in being able to attend the function, and asked the Legionnaires to "carry on."

Robert J. Hanna, eastern vice-commander, Department of Pennsylvania, was also one of the speakers of the evening. Mr. Hanna told of proposed projects that are being backed by the department, and offered suggestions as to local work that might be accomplished.

The dinner served at 7.30 consisted of: fruit cup, roast turkey, filling, candied sweet potatoes, mashed white potatoes, asparagus tips, olives, celery. (Continued on Page 4)

Enjoy Good Time At The McGinley Residence

The friends of Miss Dorothy McGinley, the daughter of Mrs. Sadie McGinley, of 221 Buckley street, enjoyed a rousing good time on Friday evening, at the home of Miss McGinley's mother, the occasion being a celebration of the young hostess's twelfth birthday anniversary.

The dining room presented a festive appearance, with its draping and inter-draping of pink and white crepe paper festoons, which were draped from the central light to the guests' places at the table and to various spots about the room. The favors were alternate pink and white napkins brimming full of candies and various other goodies, dear to young people's hearts. A huge bunch of white "mums" was placed in the centre of the table, and a large birthday cake, bearing twelve lighted candles, was another feature of decoration and attraction.

The children enjoyed playing various games, for which favors were bestowed upon the qualifying victors. The evening was spent in a round of merry-making. The guests included: Margaret, Frances, Marion and Theresa Duffy, Eleanor Mulligan, Anna Singer, Charlotte McGonigle, Mary Deviney, Dorothy Richardson, Daisy Ennis, Mary McClafferty, Mary Jane Clark, Mary Downs, Frances Schellie, Dolores Fenton, Eleanor Armstrong, Gertrude Roe, Mary Dugan, Betty McElroy, Theresa and Janice Singer, Mary Yeagle and Catharine McGinley.

Leonard McGee, John Peters, Francis Haffnall, Jack Coogan, Junior Coll, William Callahan, Neal Mulhearn, John McClafferty, Kyran Kervick, Hugh Downs, Joseph Roe, James Dugan, Leonard Dugan, Jack Duffy and Jack and Lloyd McGinley.

Dorothy was the recipient of a host of beautiful gifts.

MISS VIRGINIA YOUNG BRIDE OF SAMUEL ROGERS

Brother Performs Wedding Ceremony in M. E. Church, Here

MANY FRIENDS ATTEND

Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, a beautiful church wedding was solemnized in the Methodist Episcopal Church, when Miss Virginia Young, daughter of Mrs. Susan M. Young, 126 Buckley street, became the bride of Samuel H. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rogers, 800 Mansion street.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Rogers, brother of the groom, and pastor of the Methodist Churches of Belfast and Wind Gap, Pa. Rev. Rogers was assisted by the Rev. George Hess, pastor of the local church.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Elma Rogers, organist of the church. Prior to the ceremony, solos were rendered by Miss Carrie Rapp, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Sweet Mystery of Life," and John Brehm, of Monroe street, singing "At Dawning" and "Oh, Promise Me," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Rogers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Thomas Young, of Southampton, was beautifully gowned in white satin. The close-fitting bodice featured the high waist line, V-shaped neck and tiny sleeves of bridal lace. The ankle length skirt was cut circular, falling in graceful folds. The bridal veil of tulle was cap shape with a bandeau of Princess lace, finished with orange blossoms in the back at the neck-line and small clusters of orange blossoms caught here and there in the train. She wore white satin slippers, long stockings, long white kid gloves and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses.

Miss Cora Bazzle, of Syracuse, New York, formerly of Bristol, was the bride's only attendant. Miss Bazzle looked attractive in a gown of sea-green satin, made with a sleeveless close-fitting bodice, featuring the round neck-line in the front and the deep "V" in the back. The long full skirt was trimmed with a peplum fashioned short in the front, points at the sides reaching to the hemline of the skirt in the back. Her slippers were green velvet trimmed with silver and she wore a large black velvet hat trimmed with green velvet, the tone of her dress, and long white kid gloves. Miss Bazzle carried an arm bouquet of yellow rose buds.

PLAN BIG PROGRAM FOR FATHERS' MEETING

New Orchestra of 30 Pieces Will Give First Numbers

SEVERAL BOXING BOUTS

The members of the Bristol Fathers' Association who fail to attend the regular meeting to be held on Thursday evening, November 13th, will miss a good time.

The new orchestra, composed of 30 members of the Fathers' Association, recently organized under the leadership of Joseph Martini, will give its initial performance. Many complimentary reports regarding the efficiency of this new musical organization, have been in circulation for some time, and its appearance will be awaited by the members of the Fathers' Association with unusual interest. This is the largest orchestra that has ever been organized in Bristol, and the effort has succeeded in bringing together all the musicians of par excellence, in the town.

For a number of years, many residents of Bristol, who have been musically inclined, have dreamed of a musical organization of this type. Many efforts have been made along this line, in a minor way, but each one has proved futile. The Fathers' Association has finally accomplished that which seemed impossible, and the dream has at last come true. It is safe in assuming that the organization of this musical association will mark the beginning of a new era in musical circles in Bristol.

President Stanford K. Runyan, has promised to provide the members of the Fathers' Association at the meeting on Thursday evening with an exhibition in boxing. Several students from a boxing school in Philadelphia, will be present and give an exhibition (Continued on Page 2)

FIREMAN KILLED, EIGHT OTHERS INJURED, EN ROUTE TO FIGHT FLAMES WHICH DESTROYED "MAIN STREET" IN BEDMINSTERTVILLE, FARMING SECTION OF 200 FOLKS

Nominate and Elect New Officers for Auxiliary

Nomination and election of officers took place at the November meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary of Robert W. Bracken Post, 382, here, on Friday evening.

The new president of the organization is Mrs. Walter Strouse; while other officers elected are: Mrs. Benjamin Ahart, first vice-president; Mrs. Harold Dettmer, second vice-president; Mrs. George Croner, secretary; Miss Emily Bracken, treasurer; Mrs. Elizabeth Delker, chaplain; Miss Bessie Rafferty, historian; Mrs. William Griffiths, sergeant-at-arms.

The auxiliary members and post men are planning to take a trip to the navy yard on November 16th, at which time they will entertain the convalescent men there.

Mrs. Walter Strouse and Mrs. George Croner were named delegates to the Bucks-Montgomery bi-county council meeting to be held at Ardmore on November 20th.

Refreshments were served; and in the bistro came the prize winners were: Mrs. Harry Burbank, first; Mrs. Croner, second; Mrs. Samuel Hardy, third; Miss Bessie Rafferty, consolation.

MASQUERADE PARTY

The meeting of the Mothers' Association of the Bristol schools will take the form of a masquerade party on Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium. All members are asked to attend masqued. Those having tickets or money to return for the recent supper are asked to do so at this time.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED BY PERKASIE ELEVEN

Lose Gridiron Contest on Local Field to Up-County Team

FINAL SCORE 3 TO 0

By Leon Schiffer

Sellersville-Perkasie High's undefeated eleven garnered its sixth straight victory of the season when it handed Bristol High a 3-0 defeat last Saturday afternoon on the latter's gridiron.

As a result the Dutchmen have now before them the possibilities of winning the Bucks County championship.

Weimer and Weiss starred in the win for the visitors. Weiss dropkicked the field goal in the latter part of the third period only after he, himself, and Weimer had advanced the oval from their own 20 yard line to the Cardinal and Gray's 30-yard marker, where Townsend's charges refused to wilt.

Although the local eleven threatened the visitors' goal several times, they lacked the necessary "punch" to put it over.

Leighton kicked off to Apple, of Sellersville-Perkasie, who after returning the pigskin 15 yards was downed on his own 25-yard line. The Dutchmen then opened their offensive attack, which almost netted for them the necessary yardage for a first down. However, the Cardinal and Gray received from them the benefit of a 15-yard penalty for using hands and the visitors were forced to kick. Pico, of Bristol, received and after advancing the oval 8 yards was downed on his own 45 yard line. With Leighton, Borne, and Gaffney bearing the shock (Continued on Page 4)

ARRESTED IN HOSPITAL

Fred Bedrick, 40, was brought to Bristol Saturday by Police Officers Perry and Spezzano. Bedrick, it is alleged by his wife, Mary, 28, Hayes street, deserted her and failed to give support. He left Bristol and it was found through a newspaper story that he was injured in an automobile accident near Morristown and was taken to the Montgomery Hospital. Warrant was issued for his arrest and as he was discharged from the hospital Saturday he was placed under arrest. He was given a hearing and held in $1,000 bail by Justice Lynn.

HOLIDAY TOMORROW

On Armistice Day, tomorrow, both the Farmers National Bank and the Bristol Trust Company will observe a holiday, the two institutions being closed for the day.

Public Demand for Some System of Water Supply Grows As Authorities Probe Cause of Blaze Which Did $100,000 Damage—Need of Systematic Fire Alarm System Also Proven—Companies Called from Near and Far During Height of Blaze When Panic Reigned—General Store, Storehouse, Homes and Garages Are Consumed.

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 10.—Authorities are busy today in an endeavor to determine the cause of the blaze which yesterday developed into a conflagration and wiped out part of the village of Bedminsterville, resulted in the death of one person and the injury of eight others.

There is also a public demand for some system of water supply in the rural sections for just such emergencies as that of yesterday, and some plan whereby there will be a systematic alarm sounded for fire companies.

As the blaze spread yesterday, panic reigned, and fire companies were summoned from villages and towns for miles around. Many of them travelled long distances to the scene.

Destruction, death and injuries today lay in the wake of the blaze which threatened to raze the entire village of Bedminsterville, seven miles northwest of here, and left the farming community of 200 persons without a water supply.

Series of Accidents in Heavy Traffic Yesterday

One person was injured in one of a series of automobile collisions yesterday.

The injured person is Miss Helen Hogan, of 2338 South Broad Street, Philadelphia, who is in Harriman Hospital suffering from a lacerated scalp and shock.

Miss Hogan was riding with George Biles, of 629 South Fifteenth Street, Philadelphia, who is declared to have failed to stop before turning on to the Bristol Pike from a side road near Wheatstean and struck a car being driven by Anthony Monte, of 331 Washington Street, Bristol. Although both cars were damaged to such an extent that they could not proceed under their own power, Miss Hogan was the only one injured.

State Highway Patrolman Snader took Biles before Justice of the Peace James Lynn, who fined him $12.50. An alleged improper pass on the Lincoln Highway caused a car being driven by Peter Jones, of Brooklyn, to side-swipe a car being operated by Adolph Shulz, of Philadelphia. Both vehicles had to be taken to a garage. While traveling on the Lincoln Highway, T. C. Mark, of 4514 North Carlisle Street, Philadelphia, is said to have struck an automobile being driven by Archie Bird, of Yeaton, Pennsylvania, in an attempt to pass him. Highway Patrolmen Snader and Hahlefelder had both cars removed to a garage.

ARMISTICE DAY IS OBSERVED BY SOBY POST

Stirring Orations Given By Speakers Well Known In the State

SHORT STREET PARADE

LANGHORNE, Nov. 10.—A colorful parade, with the line of march leading from the Memorial House to the Bucks County Country Club, prior to the Armistice services of Jesse W. Soby Post, 148, American Legion, recalled yesterday memories and incidents of the World War.

Following the color guard was the bugle corps of the Robert W. Bracken Post, 382, of Bristol, in their bright-hued garbs of red and blue; and the Cadet Corps, which is sponsored by the Bracken Post. Others in the parade were: members of Jesse W. Soby Post, and auxiliary of the same; women of the Langhorne Fire Company Auxiliary; Boy and Girl Scouts of the boroughs of Langhorne, Hulmeville and South Langhorne; patriotic organizations.

Included in the program which took place at the country club were speeches by Charles Gebbert, past state commander of the American Legion; and Rev. Robert P. Zebley, who served as a chaplain in the 28th Division during the great world conflict.

These two Armistice Day orations were of a most stirring nature, each speaker asking that the ideals for which the boys fought "over there" be held higher, and that each individual live for the furtherance of world peace.

"Let us accord ourselves as courageously and valiantly now as civilians as in the days of conflict," was one of Mr. Gebbert's pertinent remarks.

The Rev. Zebley who was introduced by R. MacIver, stated that "What we need today is more manhood and more (Continued on Page 4)

The fire, which destroyed the main buildings in the centre of the village and damaged a school and three dwellings with a loss estimated at $100,000, indirectly caused two automobile accidents in which one volunteer fireman was killed and eight others were injured, one of them probably fatally.

The dead man, William Fisher, 31 years old, of Bridgeport, Pa., a member of the Swedeland Fire Company, was instantly killed when a fire engine collided with an automobile at the intersection of Bethlehem Pike and Souderton Road and overturned.

Most of the residents of the community were at church yesterday when the blaze broke out in a large storehouse belonging to Lewis Keller, father of Judge Hiram H. Keller, president judge of the Bucks County Court. An alarm was raised and at the cry of "fire," the pastors dismissed their congregations and ordered the church bells rung to summon aid. As the flames spread to nearby buildings, home-owners throughout the town started to move their furniture out of the houses to save it from destruction.

Aid was sought from neighboring communities, and a total of 51 pieces of apparatus, with more than 200 volunteer firemen arrived at the scene to fight the blaze. After a four hour battle they extinguished it, but not until it had leveled the general store, the storage-house and dwelling owned by Keller, and two garages containing five trucks. Houses owned by Clarence Gruber and Harry Hess, and the roof of the town public school, a one-story brick building, were badly damaged. Keller's loss was placed at $79,000.

The Dublin Fire Company was the first to reach the fire, which had before its arrival made great headway. As others arrived lines were attached to every well in the community, but inside of 20 minutes the last drop of water had been exhausted, and the chemical tanks of the engines proved ineffective.

The flames, discovered in the storehouse at 11 a. m., spread rapidly to the general store, which housed the post office, thence to the garages, and finally to the roofs of the dwellings. Lacking water to combat the main fires, the volunteer fighters climbed to the tops of the dwellings to beat out the sparks that landed on the roofs and managed to prevent further spread of the flames.

The accident, in which Fisher was killed, occurred when the Swedeland engine, speeding to Bedminsterville, collided with an automobile operated by Jerehath Reichert, 65 years old, of Souderton. In the crash, Joseph Balgo suffered concussion of the brain and he is now in the Grandview Hospital, Sellersville. Six other members of the company were treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises and allowed to leave. They were: Alfred Hines, 26; John Murphy, 29; John Petritz, 21; James Davis, Sr., 25; Jacob Herzig, 29, truck driver, and Edward Hines, 25. The last suffered four broken ribs.

Frank Moll, 32 years old, a houseman of the Perkaskie Fire Company, was seriously hurt when he was crushed against a tree as the Perkaskie pumper ran off the road into a ditch. He was taken to his home, and the pumper continued to Bedminsterville. It is believed that he is suffering from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

After the Perkaskie Company arrived at the fire it was notified that there was a blaze at Glen Ridge, a town within its district. Before it was very far from Bedminsterville however, the pumper once more ran off the road, seven men escaping injury by leaping (Continued on Page 4)

OUR DOUBTS ARE TRAITORS

"More fears than war or women have," says Shakespeare. That means what you are dreading will come to pass.

Detroit's famous elephant Sheba, quartered in the city's zoo on Belle Isle, startled bystanders the other day by suddenly raising her trunk, groaning and meaning, shrieking in terror.

The wise keeper, after a thorough search that showed nothing, was about to give it up, when of a sudden he saw a little mouse in the hay pile, where Sheba had been feeding.

The huge elephant afraid of a mouse! Panic-stricken. And you are no exception, for self-preservation is an instinct common to man and beast.

What is Henry Ford afraid of? Tush, tush, you say, a man with $1,000,000,000 fears nothing. Why should he?

That is exactly where you are wrong. Many a sleepless night, many a quake of fear, many a sigh, many a side-glance. Just suppose that M. Citrone, the Mr. Ford in light cars in France, should bring out that auto that runs by charcoal gas? Or suppose this, or suppose that. Mr. Ford does not "need" the money. Ambition drives him on, and he undoubtedly hopes to live and die "first in the race." Hence those alarms that wake him in the dead of night, when paupers are sleeping soundly.

What is the mother afraid of? That her sick child will die. And the daughter? That her beau may be stolen by jealous rivals. And the college coach? His team may lose.

The Roman emperor wishing to make sure that the list of his victories might always be honored down the ages, ordered his learned men to cast up the record in seven languages, and his smiths then turned the writings into bronze. There seemed to be nothing more to be done, but a few years after the emperor's death the barbarians came over the Alps, smashed the tablets, and tumbled the monument in ruin.

Timid folks who are not Fords, Coolidges, Sheba elephants or Roman emperors, should not flatter themselves too much, but should remember this: Every man, woman and child on a lonely road at night instinctively dreads the dark. That road is the highway of life—over which, one by one, we must all pass.

News From Towns Adjacent to Bristol As Reported by Correspondents

HULMEVILLE

Several members of the Hulmeville Troop of Boy Scouts enjoyed watching the Princeton-Lehigh game at Princeton, Saturday afternoon. The boys were: Kimbel Faust, Sydney Buckman, William and James Keen, Edwin Webster, Theodore Harrison, William Gill. The Scouts were accompanied by Assistant Scoutmaster Harold H. Haefner, Samuel K. Faust and Jesse G. Webster, the latter two furnishing cars for transportation.

The local firemen were called out to assist in extinguishing a few grass fires in this vicinity over the weekend.

ence and Frances McAllister, of Camden, N. J., visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haefner, on Sunday.

A special meeting of the ladies' auxiliary of the William Penn Fire Company is called for Tuesday at 8 p. m. The group will discuss further plans for the fire company chicken supper which will be served next Saturday evening.

A new Ford coupe has been purchased by John Corrigan, of Washington avenue.

Two ex-service men assisted with an Armistice service at the Neshaminy M. E. Church yesterday morning. C. W. Haefner read the Scripture lesson; and Thomas K. Schatt gave his impression of the day when the Armistice was signed, at which time he was along the front lines overseas. Rev. Francis E. Walz, pastor, gave a brief talk relative to the Armistice season. In the evening the Boy Scout Troop attended service.

Tomorrow evening the Bensalem basketball team will play its second game of the season, when it meets the strong Trinity five of Philadelphia. The Bensalem boys wish support in these games. Tuesday's game will be played in the Bensalem M. E. social hall.

Anyone desiring to join the Association before Thursday evening can do so by paying one dollar and fifty cents, to either of the following: Stanford K. Runyan and Morris D. Harrison, at Thomas L. Leedom & Co., Edward Malloy, at the Keystone Aircraft Corporation; Roy Fry, at Wm. H. Grundy Co., Inc.; V. V. Vansant, at D. Landroth Seed Co.; Harold Hunter, at the Farmers' National Bank; Minot J. Hill and John H. Hardy, real estate agents, and George K. King, insurance agent.

The Fathers' and Mothers' Associations have installed three hundred grandstand seats on the athletic field at the high school. These seats were used for the first time on last Saturday afternoon and proved very satisfactory. Many complimentary remarks were overheard, about the kindness and generosity shown by these two associations, in carrying out this undertaking. The sections are made in small units, so they can be disconnected, and the sections carried to different parts of the field, or they may be carried into the gymnasium and used whenever desired.

At the conclusion of the meeting on Thursday evening, refreshments will be served in the cafeteria. The meeting

AFRICA SPEAKS

BY PAUL L. HOEFER
STRANGEST PICTURE EVER FILMED
PUBLISHED BY ARRANGEMENT WITH COLUMBIA PICTURES

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE:
(Colorado African Expedition headed by Paul L. Hoefler and his companion, Charles, have set out from Denver, Colorado, with motion picture cameras and sound equipment to cross equatorial Africa. They arrived at the little village of Abaka on the mud flats of the Niger River and after equipping the expedition sailed 300 miles of the stream in an old-time wood-burning stern wheelers. The party disembarked at Loko, where they transferred their luggage to trucks and started to cross the country. In the interior they came across some Frenchmen, who through a queer twist of fate had settled there. NOW CONTINUE WITH THE STORY

Chapter Two

The crossing of the River Chari presented a difficult problem and it was not until Hoefler succeeded in locating a trader with a small portable motor attached to a row boat that the problem was solved. Then the 100 or more natives engaged at 25c a day, fashioned a at one of the natives, "Get in there and help the men."

They pulled and tugged until finally the heavy vehicle was pushed onto firm ground.

After days of similar difficulties, the party arrived on the edge of the great Ituri Forest in which elephants, the largest of all animals; and pygmies, the smallest of all humans are to be found. The trail of the elephant was easy to follow because the animal tramped down everything in its way. But the cumbersome camera and sound equipment made it difficult to track the pachyderm. The elephant is the wisest of all African animals while the rhino is the most stupid. Although their sight is very bad the elephants have a keen scent and highly developed hearing, making dimly raft of three dugout canoes, them the most dangerous to approach.

"That doesn't look very safe," said Charles.

"But it's better than nothing," Hoefler replied.

"You are not going to put that truck upon the raft?" Charles inquired with misgivings.

"Certainly I am," the explorer replied, "And I am going to take the chance of walking back if anything happens mid-stream."

After many trips back and forth on the crude raft everything was landed safely on the other side.

Tired from the work and depressed from the heat, Hoefler was overjoyed to meet some lonesome Frenchman who, through some queer streak of fate, located in this God forsaken place. The Frenchman treated them to wine and a very fine dinner.

"How did you get here?" inquired the man.

"We came from the West Coast by motor and are making our way straight across the continent," Hoefler answered.

"No one has ever done that before," said the Frenchman.

"I know it," laughed Hoefler, "That's just why we are doing it."

"But you will find many difficulties and almost unsurmountable obstacles," cautioned the Frenchman who had lived long enough in the country to know that the unbeaten trails of Africa assured no path of roses. So had Hoefler for that matter, but with the spirit of "never say die" and a staunch determination to make good he forged ahead.

After leaving the Frenchman the explorer's real troubles began. Nights spent in swamps, heavy rains that made the landscapes a sea of mud and the help down with fever, checked the progress so that when the party made five miles a day forward it was an exceptional event.

"Give her gas, Paul," said Charles. "We don't want to spend another night in the swamps like this."

But try as they would the trucks refused to shove off, the motors chugged and the wheels revolved in the mire, and the vehicle sank deeper and deeper.

"Hey you heavyweight," he yelled them the most dangerous to approach.

"They are very loyal to their comrades," said Hoefler, as he and Charles approached a group of huge beasts.

"They have been known to carry a wounded pal away from danger, supporting his immense body between them at the risk of their own lives."

"Those elephants would be fine in a circus," said Charles as Hoefler started to grind off the film.

"The African elephant," Hoefler replied, busy focusing his lens, "is unlike his namesake in that he has never been successfully trained for the uses of man . . ."

But he got no further for Charles exclaimed, "Paul look there."

One of the smallest human beings in existence jumped out from the underbrush.

"Those are pygmies," exclaimed Hoefler, "Get a bag of salt quick."

Charles obeyed the command scurrying to the truck.

"What are you going to do sprinkle salt on their tails," he inquired.

"Never mind, hurry," yelled Hoefler forgetting his elephants for the nonce, "Part of my job here is to locate these pygmies and we can't miss the opportunity."

He grasped the salt from Charles and pouring some into the hands he called, "Boy! Juki-hapa-Kuji-happa!"

The lad turned towards the salt and stood looking timidly.

"They love it, like a child loves candy," said Hoefler. "It's very scarce in the forest."

Pouring out more salt so that the pygmy might see it he called, "Chumbi, Chumbi mingi! Kugi-Chumbi Gini, Ia Manana!"

The pygmy moved towards them, held out his hands to receive the salt, exclaiming "Dios! Dios!"

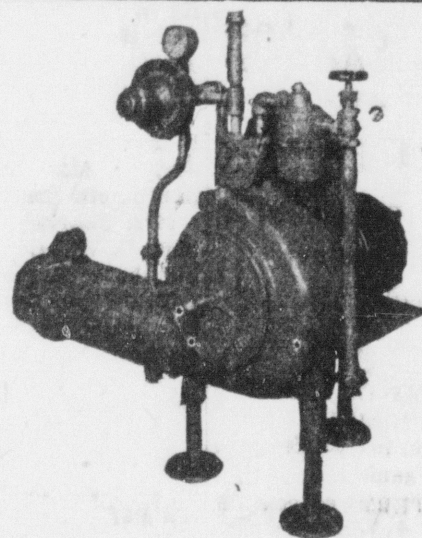

"What does he say," asked Charles.

"He says that he will lead us to the pygmy clearing if we take plenty of salt with us," explained Hoefler.

"We had better bring plenty of water," laughed Charles, "for something tells me that he will be plenty thirsty, the way he is eating it by handfuls."

St. Ann's Opposes Trenton Eleven in Stiff Contest

St. Ann's team did not draw a penalty from the officials. Seneca, Daniels and Missera played best for Bristol. Bartolone, Johnson and Coffee were the winners' best.

Donhuri and Stallone, both St. Ann's players, suffered injuries.

Next week the "Saints" have an engagement to settle with the Yardley Bruins.

Line-up:
Bristol St. Ann's
Lasprella centre
Kornstedt right guard
Stallone right tackle
Sabatini right end
Moffo quarterback
Donhuri right halfback
Peet fullback

High School Defeated By Perkasio Eleven

of the advance the local eleven advanced the ball from their own 45-yard line to the visitors' 30 yard marker. However, at this point Sellersville-Perkasie's line refused to wilt and the Cardinal and Gray failed in their attempt to register the necessary yardage for a first down. The remainder of the period was more or less slow, with many substitutions being made in the Cardinal and Gray's aggregation.

The second period was a slight repetition of the first. With Pieo and Lafferty bearing the brunt of the attack the Cardinal and Gray advanced the pigskin from their own 35 yard line to the Dutchmen's 20 yard marker. A short pass by Lafferty to Cole which was fumbled retired the oval to Sellersville-Perkasie's possession, who in turn, due to several penalties for clipping and use of hands was forced to kick. Pieo received and after advancing the pigskin 11 yards was downed in Sellersville-Perkasie's own 25 yard line. Starting a powerful combination of line plunges, forwards and end runs the Bristol eleven started their long but steady march down the field which terminated only when Lafferty failed in his attempt to place the pigskin over the visitors' goal. The half ended with neither team having scored and the ball in Bristol's possession on their own 35 yard line.

The third period saw a revamped Sellersville-Perkasie eleven take the field. Lafferty kicked off to Weiss, of Sellersville-Perkasie, who after returning the ball 8 yards was downed on his own 30 yard line. With Weiss and Welmer bearing the brunt of the attack for the Sellersville-Perkasie aggregation the Dutchmen advanced from their own 25 yard line to the Cardinal and Gray's 30 yard marker, where Townsend's proteges refused to wilt. However, the visitors were not to be denied a score and accordingly Weiss drop kicked a field goal over a distance of 30 yards for the only tally during the entire game.

The fourth period was a "bottle royal" between both squads with neither team scoring. Although, the local eleven threatened the visitors' goal several times, they lacked the necessary "fight" to put it over.

Much credit must be given to Captain Alta's commendable strategy, both in the defense and offense. Alta was constantly in on the various plays which the Sellersville-Perkasie eleven attempted, besides encouraging and helping his teammates and the team would have been at a total loss if they had not had him as their main pivot.

PROCLAMATION

Tuesday, November 11, 1930, is the twelfth anniversary of the armistice which terminated the World War. It has been made a holiday by both National and State law and the President has proclaimed it and directed its observance throughout the Nation.

The lessons of this great struggle should ever be kept in mind. They become more manifest with the passing of time. We recall the awful destruction of life and property, the bitter hatreds engendered and the evil passions loosened upon humanity, the unsettling of the social forces which enter into the stability of government and the peaceful intercourse of peoples and nations, and the horrifying increase in the number and effectiveness of the weapons of war. Under the influence of these memories we call upon every agency and invoke every noble impulse in our humanity for the establishment of good feeling, kindly relationships, and justice throughout the world to the end that all war may cease.

We earnestly hope and pray that the present widespread feeling of discontent and unrest now so manifest in many parts of the world may find peaceful solution.

On this Armistice Day the patriotic service and sacrifice of the men and women of America and her allies will be gratefully remembered. The ideals for which they struggled are realized in greater freedom for individual citizens and more democracy in the forms of government throughout the world. Our gratitude for the sacrifices will be best manifested by our renewed devotion to the cause for which they gave or offered their lives.

Now, therefore, I, John S. Fisher, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in obedience to law, do hereby set apart Tuesday, November 11, 1930, as a legal holiday, to be commemorated by all citizens of this Commonwealth, and especially by patriotic organizations and the public schools and all institutions of learning.

I enjoin upon all our people to abstain, in grateful remembrance, from their usual occupations, and, at the hour of eleven o'clock in the morning, to suspend all business and employment for two minutes, when every head may be bowed and every heart may reverently remember the sufferings and sacrifices of our heroic dead, who offered their lives as a sacrifice for country and humanity; and let all citizens join in offering thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God for the blessings of the peace which is the price of their devotion.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the Commonwealth, at the City of Harrisburg, this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and fifty-fifth.

By the Governor,
JOHN S. FISHER.

Firemen's Auxiliary Gives Successful Card Party

The Ladies' Auxiliary of America Hose, Hook and Ladder Company, No. 2, held a card party in the fire house Thursday evening. The evening was enjoyed playing "500" and pinochle, one table of "500" and five tables of pinochle players being arranged. Following the cards, refreshments were served.

The winning contestants were awarded prizes, and each one was useful.

Those who scored high in the game of pinochle were: Mrs. Charles Mumme, 764; Mrs. Beattie Campbell, 732; Mrs. Thomas Burns, 719; Mrs. Jane McNulty, 681; Charles Mumme, 678; Mrs. Mae Force, 672; C. Appleton, 670; A. Tice, 665; Mrs. C. Appleton, 664; Mrs. Minnie Obrecht, 663; George Hoesle, 649; Lewis Gennett, 644; Pearl Moss, 629; Mrs. Clara Bailey, 624; Mrs. Elizabeth Hinman, 623; Mrs. Shields, 613.

The "500" prize winners and their scores were: Mrs. Cullen, 3460; Mrs. Marguerite Green, 3110.

The party was in charge of Mrs. Clara Bailey.

womanhood thrust into the real issues of life." He urged that each one be willing to be a living sacrifice for peace. "Stand four-square, building a living monument for the lads who 'went West.' We must measure up for the welfare of our country."

Master of ceremonies at yesterday's service was Rev. Isaac E. Brooks, chaplain of the Soby post.

Ernest Gamble pleased the large assemblage with two vocal numbers, "When the Boys Come Home," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Miss VanArtsdalen sang "Ring Out, Sweet Bells of Peace."

Other participants included: Commander of Soby Post, Howard Ott; Joseph Zalot, and W. Rogers Watson. The invocation was made by Rev. Henry Cunningham, pastor of the Langhorne Presbyterian Church; and the benediction pronounced by Rev. J. Carpenter Zook, pastor of Langhorne M. E. Church.

A 12-piece orchestra furnished music for the song numbers; and taps were sounded by a member of Bracken Post Bugle Corps.

from the vehicle. It was considerably damaged as it turned over in a field. Five fire alarms within a radius of ten miles were sounded during the Westminster blaze.

What caused the fire will probably never be known for there is nothing but a heap of ruins where the three-story storage house once stood. Nothing more was left of the general store, which was conducted by Mahlon Wasser, or the garages.

Even had the water supply held out it would have been a difficult task to have subdued the fire with its long start because of the high wind. The breeze whipped the blaze into an inferno and carried showers of sparks to every part of the community. Women and children and the aged residents of the town stood well back from the fire, anxiously watching the bits of fire that floated about in the air—a menace to the 30 structures of the village that remained untouched.

Some of the women insisted on standing guard over their furnishings.

ushers were Alford J. Rogers and Fred Rogers, both brothers of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, the immediate families and close friends attending. During the evening, the bride and groom left for their honeymoon on a two weeks' motor tour through the Southern States.

Mrs. Rogers travelled in a brown crepe dress trimmed with ecru lace, brown coat, hat and slippers and stockings to match.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will reside at the home of Mrs. Rogers' mother on Buckley street.

The bride and groom were both born in Bristol. Mrs. Rogers graduated from the Bristol High School with the class of 1927 and later graduated from Riders Business College in Trenton.

She is employed as a stenographer at the Thomas L. Leedom Company. Mr. Rogers attended the public schools and is employed at the Corona Leather Works. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are well known in Bristol and have many friends who wish them health and happiness.

Guests attending the wedding were from Bristol, Philadelphia, Morrisville, Hatboro, Pa., Trenton and Elizabeth, N. J., and Syracuse, N. Y. The bride and groom were recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts.

womanhood thrust into the real issues of life." He urged that each one be willing to be a living sacrifice for peace. "Stand four-square, building a living monument for the lads who 'went West.' We must measure up for the welfare of our country."

Master of ceremonies at yesterday's service was Rev. Isaac E. Brooks, chaplain of the Soby post.

Ernest Gamble pleased the large assemblage with two vocal numbers, "When the Boys Come Home," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Miss VanArtsdalen sang "Ring Out, Sweet Bells of Peace."

Other participants included: Commander of Soby Post, Howard Ott; Joseph Zalot, and W. Rogers Watson. The invocation was made by Rev. Henry Cunningham, pastor of the Langhorne Presbyterian Church; and the benediction pronounced by Rev. J. Carpenter Zook, pastor of Langhorne M. E. Church.

A 12-piece orchestra furnished music for the song numbers; and taps were sounded by a member of Bracken Post Bugle Corps.

The main room of the memorial house presented a particularly attractive appearance. The ceiling was draped with crepe paper festoons of the patriotic colors; while red, white and blue candles graced the tables, together with military paraphernalia, the latter including an encampment with soldiers and tents, a battleship laden with poppies, an airplane, and canon. BRITISH CRIMINAL STATISTICS

To the Editor of the Public Ledger:
Sir—Because the Wets are everlastingly telling us that prohibition is responsible for the great increase in crime in our country today, I think it would be of more than passing interest to your readers to hear from a country like England, a country where there is not only no prohibition but with three of her last year's drink bills could square her entire war debts to the United States, and, incidentally, a country which has quite a good deal to say about her great "respect for law."

I now quote from an annual report issued on July 6 last by the British Government entitled "Home Office Criminal Statistics; England-Wales, 1928," presented to Parliament, obtained from His Majesty's Stationery Office, Kingsway, London, W. C. 2.

The report lists increases in certain crimes since the period just preceding the World War as follows:

Housebreaking 72
Shopbreaking 129
Attempts to break in 119

ENTERING WITH INTENT TO COMMIT FELONY

Obtaining money by false pretenses 123
Frauds by agents 134
Falsifying accounts 177
Other frauds 195

The British police attribute these increases exclusively to the "motor age." But supposing England and Wales had prohibition? Would not folk be blaming it for such crime increases, just as they are doing here? Of course they would.
